7 ACTIVITIES TO GET YOU THROUGH WINTER

- 1. Build a cardboard play house (or rocket ship) – Pick up a large box from a local builder or furniture store. Encourage your child to use things around the house to decorate the house.
- 2. Make homemade play dough or slime – The internet has many great recipes, plus your kids will have so much fun making it and then playing with it afterward.
- 3. Make marshmallow structures – Use dried spaghetti and mini marshmallows to build anything your child can imagine!
- 4. Let your child take a “Mad Scientist” bath – Gather up various sized plastic cups, small containers, spray bottles and funnels, and set up a plastic stool in the bathtub. Add soap and bubbles and let them use the stool as a table to line up the “experiments”.
- 5. Indoor scavenger hunt – Hide clues around the house for a hunt that will keep them busy solving riddles and working as a team. Leave a “treasure chest” at the end with a few treats for a special surprise.
- 6. Make a marble race track – Cut a pool noodle in half lengthwise to make two race tracks. Set them up side by side on your stairs or propped up on the couch. Let the kids race their marbles or small cars.

A Note from the Director:

- We typically hold parent-teacher conferences the first week of February. Parent-teacher conferences provided a great opportunity for parents to connect with their child’s teacher. Look for more information to be sent home later this month.
- We will begin registration for the 2023-24 school year for current families on February 1st.

*If due to inclement weather Lexington Schools are delayed, we will NOT have AM preschool classes. If they are closed, we will NOT have AM or PM preschool classes. Childcare will remain available for those who are scheduled for that day unless otherwise communicated via WMFD. You must notify the center by 10am whether your child will be attending that day.

Hi families!

We are continuing to use our current early education program, Procure for parent communication, tuition billing, and more. Soon, you’ll receive an email or text invitation from Procure to connect to your child’s profile. Simply click the link in the message to finish creating your account. Please contact the office if you have any questions. Thank you!
